Dear Parents,

Alert, Alert! New school initiative coming up....

With my birthday last weekend and Book Week activities still fresh in my mind, I thought I would shamelessly steal an idea that Kate Bailey will be initiating at Wetherby, New York this September. Every birthday, I will buy a book for the School Library. This will be a book, personal to me for one reason or another, and I will donate it to the School for the benefit of anyone who would like to read it. The book will be catalogued and coded in the same way as all other library books but will also have a bookplate (see example below) on the first blank page, identifying it as being donated by me on the occasion of my birthday. I am not mean enough to stop boys bringing in cakes and doughnuts on the Friday nearest their birthday as I very much like the idea of giving on one's birthday but if boys want to join me in donating a book on their special day, that would be great.

I launched this at Wetherby Senior Assembly last Friday and, already, Billy MacPherson has donated a book. It is not obligatory, of course, but if any boy, member of staff or parent would like to develop this into another, great Wetherby tradition, I would love to give you a bookplate and hand it over to the Library. We will even celebrate the week's donations in the appropriate editions of 'Wetherbuzz' or 'The Barometer'.

For the Senior School, I have donated a beautiful book by Michael Farr called 'The Artwork of Tintin'. Tintin is arguably my favourite literary hero and whilst the books are enjoyed by all ages, I thought a scholarly look at the evolution of Tintin as an Art form, through Herge's career, was more appropriate for Senior School boys. I also bought a collection of Sherlock Holmes' stories. I still read Conan-Doyle to this day and it is the historical aspect, particularly the history of London, that I find most interesting and enjoyable, still very relevant to boys growing up in this great city. The third book (I will see myself as having worked at Wetherby Senior for three years at the end of this academic one) is of a darker humour. I studied Dickens' 'Bleak House' as a Sixth Form boy during English Literature and found it the most challenging of texts. Its never-ending descriptions of poverty and deprivation in Victorian London was difficult to access and, despite being mightily proud of my B grade at 'A'-Level in 1991, was so determined that the book wouldn't 'beat me' that I returned to read it in my early twenties. I found it fascinating, similar in many ways to the historical revelations of Sherlock Holmes but at that stage, as a more intellectually curious young man, I could actually understand what I was reading, well just about!

For the Prep School, I have bought a copy of 'Moonfleet'. I love the story and it is indeed a classic of children's literature but this is particularly relevant to my childhood as, at my prep school, we spent an entire term in Year 6 studying the text and every week was spent summarising each chapter and drawing a picture that represented it. It wasn't 'education in the round' exactly but it taught me dedication, standards of presentation and I was so proud of what I eventually produced, that I still have it to this day.

Have a good weekend and, if it's your birthday this weekend or next week, Happy Birthday to you!

Citizen of the Week

This week's Citizen of the Week is Matteo H in 7T. Always polite and cheerful, Matteo makes an effort with everyone in his form class and is a good friend to all. With this week's hovercraft challenge for British Science Week, he was a real team player and sets an example to all the other boys in his year group. Well done, Matteo!

Sportsman of the Week

This week's Sportsman of the Week is Arki P in 4K. Scoring a spectacular 8 tries against Fulham Prep this week, Arki is a sporting hero on the pitch. He has impressed all the Games Department with his attitude towards rugby and his enthusiasm in sessions. He even bought a new pair of rugby boots for the occasion! Well done, Arki!

From the Science Department – British Science Week

Mr Tilleray writes...

This week we celebrated British Science Week 2017. We had a whole range of Space-themed activities taking place: Space Quiz, building spacesuits, making hovercrafts, video conferences with the National Space Centre and a 360° mobile planetarium.

Below are the entries for the 'Build a Spacesuit' competition for the Lower School:

3P

4B

4K

4M

5B

5K

5T

And the winner is....3P!

The Upper School have been making their own minicrafts, taking into account Newton's second Law of Motion: that an object's acceleration depends on its mass and the force working on the object. Here are our best entries:

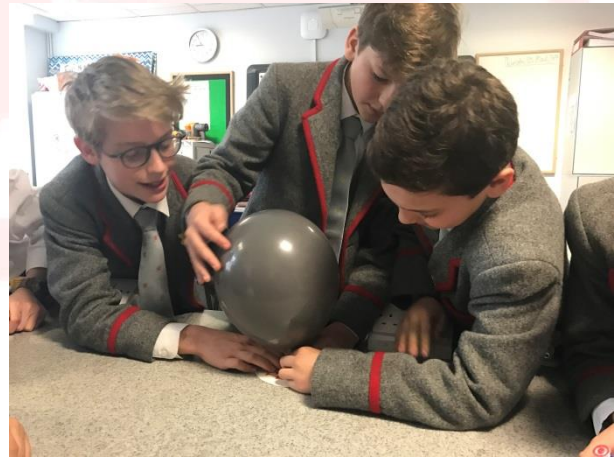

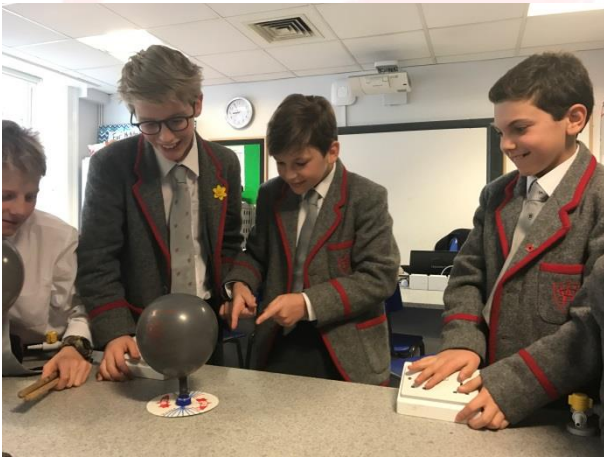

Winner: 7V
Tarquin Sotir
Salar Moghadam
Lucas Bloom

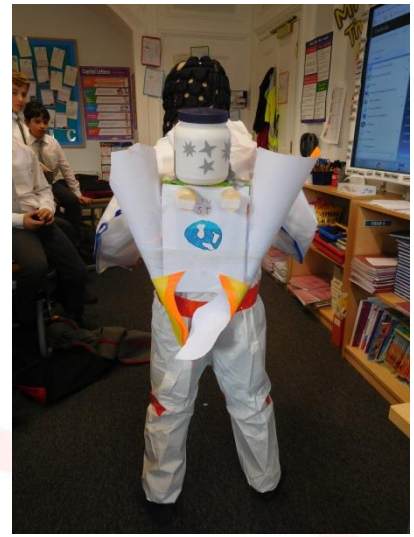

Runner-Up: 7T
Zachary Wulfsohn
Matteo Hurrell
Thomas Powell

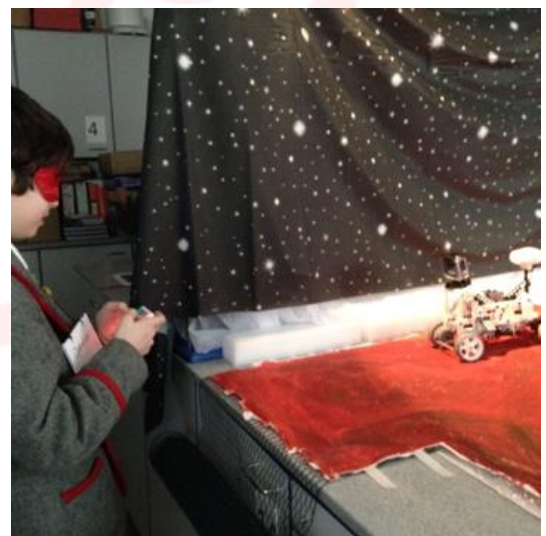

Finally, some highlights from the week include:

Final Rehearsals

I am looking forward to seeing all boys at the Rudolf Steiner House theatre tomorrow afternoon at 1pm for our first rehearsal at the theatre.

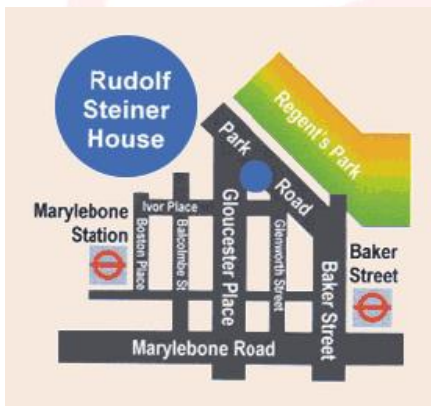

On Wednesday and Thursday, the boys will be at the theatre all day for our final rehearsals. On both days, we will leave school at 8:45am and return before 4pm for usual buses. All boys will be provided with a packed lunch. All costumes that are in school will be taken to the theatre but boys should be reminded to bring any additional items such as plimsolls and accessories. Please can they come to school in Games Kit for ease of changing in and out of costumes.

For our final performance on Thursday evening, the boys need to be dropped at the Rudolf Steiner House theatre at 5:45pm.

Ticket Reservations for Peter Pan

The School Play is next week! The curtains open on 'Peter Pan' on Thursday 23rd March. The evening performance will take place at 7pm at Rudolf Steiner House, Park Road. Directions can be found below:

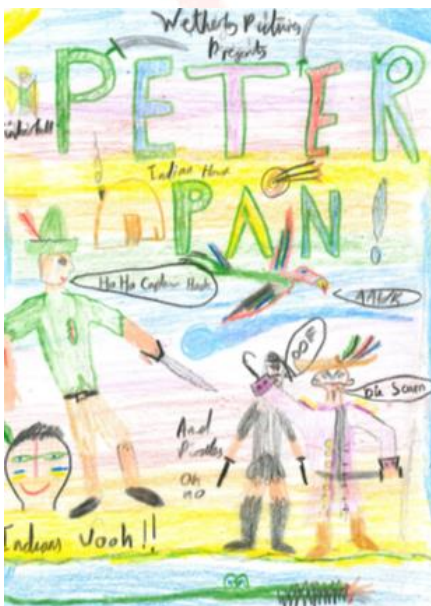

<http://www.rsh.anth.org.uk/pages/contact.php>

We welcome all families to attend, whether or not your son is involved in the play, as this production is our dramatic event of the year! Years 3-7 will watch the performance on Thursday afternoon during school hours and Year 8 are invited to attend the evening performance. Please email selina.king@wetherbyprep.co.uk to reserve your tickets!

Programme Design Competition

Thank you so much for all the wonderful entries! Well done to Kilian Seidel for the winning entry and the runners up: Rory McConnon and Cameron Childs. Please see me to collect your Headmaster's Good Shows.

An Invitation to Tea!

This year the Unicorn commemorates its 70th birthday, and as part of our celebrations we would like to invite you to a special occasion in honour of grandparents and the important part they play in the lives of their grandchildren.

Please join us on Tuesday 11th April at 3pm for a performance of The Velveteen Rabbit, followed by a special cream tea on the stage, rabbit themed crafts and a visit from a surprise guest!

After three hugely successful runs at the Unicorn Theatre and a Broadway transfer to The New Victory Theatre (New York) last year, The Velveteen Rabbit will make an eagerly awaited comeback for Easter 2017. The Velveteen Rabbit is a heart-warming story about a very shy toy rabbit who longs for nothing more than to become real.

★★★★ 'An utterly gripping and heart-wrenching piece of contemporary theatre...This is a show with both a brain and a heart...Celebrates the power of every child's imagination.' The Guardian

Tickets include best seats in the house for the performance, rabbit themed crafts and afternoon tea on the Weston Stage with the cast of The Velveteen Rabbit - as this is a very special event, numbers are strictly limited.

Adult tickets: £48 (which includes a £25 donation to the work of the Unicorn)

Child tickets: £21

RSVP: To reserve your tickets please email zoe.bennett@unicorntheatre.com

All proceeds will go towards the work of the charity, and the gift you make through your ticket will support the Unicorn's charitable work with vulnerable young people and those who, through no fault of their own, face difficult challenges in their lives.

We hope to see you and your grandchildren at this very special event (parents are welcome too).

LAMDA Recital

Mrs Trevitt writes...

On Monday our Lower School boys took part in our annual LAMDA recital. Huge thanks must go out to all those parents who came to support but most of all, to the talented and brave boys who so wowed us with their readings – it's no mean feat to recite a poem in front of not only your peers but a room packed with adults! The self-assured and word perfect performances simply showed us what LAMDA is all about – instilling confidence in the boys as well as an emotional understanding of literature. LAMDA is also about engaging the audience and using the voice and the face to make the audience listen and the boys rose to this considerable challenge magnificently. We have been so impressed with the boys who took part this year – their ability, confidence and presentation were the best yet! Congratulations to all involved, and to Liz Mance and her team for putting together such an inspiring show.

Choir Tour to Belgium

This time next week, the boys will already be in Belgium. A reminder for the arrangements on the day (Friday 24th March):

Boys are not to go to assembly, but to come straight to school as we will be on the bus, ready to depart, at 09:15. A 'kit list' has been sent out, and if you could double check the boys have their passports on them that would be much appreciated. Tour hoodies will be distributed in the morning when the boys arrive.

Prior to heading to Belgium, there a couple of events:

Monday 20th March: Tour Choir Open Rehearsal, 4:00pm-5:30pm, The Church of Annunciation (where Friday assembly is held).

All are welcome and this is an opportunity for you to come along and listen to some of what the boys will be performing in Belgium and also to listen to us in action in a rehearsal setting. I stress that this is a rehearsal and not a performance but your attendance will make all the difference.

Tuesday 21st March: Concert @ Chelsea Court Place, 2.00pm-3.00pm, King's Rd, SW3 5UA

The Chamber Choir may remember singing here before Christmas and we have been invited back to use their wonderful facilities in the form of a dress rehearsal for the care home's residents. This is a great opportunity to perform more in the community as well as it being a form of Music Therapy for the residents too. Furthermore, this gives the choir a taste of what it will feel like to perform their pieces one after the other for the length of the concert ahead of the tour.

If you would like to attend, please let us know so that I can inform the venue the number of potential guests attending.

Parent Representative

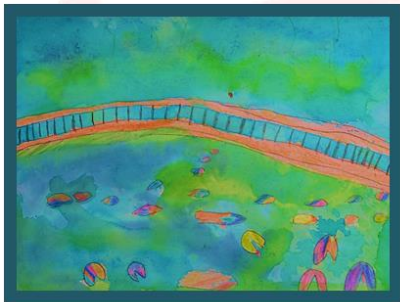

With the aforementioned Choir Tour just around the corner, we feel this is good time to mention how delighted we've been with the development of the Music Department at Wetherby. The choirs are continuing to grow; we now have our own Music Department logo; we are being invited to more and more events outside of school and the concerts in house are as fantastic as ever - the recent Spring Recital was evidence of this as it must have been our most well attended concert yet!

With that in mind, and with further exciting projects on the horizon for this year and next, we are looking for a Parent Representative for our choirs. One of the main tasks would be organising the much discussed Parent/Staff Choir but we are hopeful that they would be able to help out in other areas too. This is something which has been deliberated on over the years (and we are always grateful for your offers of support) but we feel now is the right time to formalise what you've all been waiting for. Without sounding contradictory, please just drop us an informal email for now and we can then collate any proposals and ideas and get in contact with you individually over the coming weeks. As always, you can reach us at nathaniel.brawn@wetherbyprep.co.uk & zacc.rodwell@wetherbyprep.co.uk.

From the Art Department – Year 4 Art

Miss Clifford writes...

Over the past few weeks the Year 4 boys have produced pieces of artwork inspired by Claude Monet. Using a wax-resist method, they all used wax-crayons to create their colourful array of waterlilies and then added layers of different coloured ink to create these wonderful pictures – well done, Year 4!

From Institutum Studiis Latinis Schola Wetherbiana – Roman Mosaics

Magister Vogiatzis scribit...

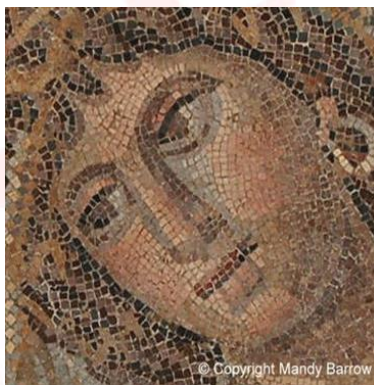

This week our members of the Classical Civilization Group named VOX POPULI, which means The Voice of People were introduced to the making of Roman Mosaics.

What is a mosaic? A mosaic is a picture or pattern made with small pieces of ceramic tile. The Romans and other ancient people made very elaborate mosaics. They might make a counter top or a wall or even the whole floor of a room might be a mosaic. Mosaics were practical because they were easy to wash and helped to keep the house cool. They were also beautiful. The Romans loved to combine a practical purpose with wonderful art. Many Mosaics captured scenes of history and everyday Roman life. Mosaic floors were a statement of wealth and importance. Rich Romans decorated the floors of the main rooms with mosaics. These were stuck to the floor with mortar, a type of cement. Each mosaic used thousands of pieces to make a pattern.

The boys were given instructions on how to make their own mosaics and they efficiently worked online on two mosaic projects:

1. How to create mosaics with triangle tiles AND
2. How to make Fishbourne - style mosaics.

The boys were thrilled from the house points they received and they will award our Latin Diploma to the winners of the best mosaics next week.

Week 22 Fixtures

Last Thursday the Wetherby Cross Country team were in action at the Claremont Fan Court Cross Country. All boys ran well and it was great to get so many high place finishes in a field of 120 runners. Well done to Alexander Williams who came an impressive 12th.

Runner of the Day – Alexander Williams

Friday saw the Wetherby Fencing team in action at St Benedict's. All boys fenced with will tactical awareness and were a credit to the school. A special mention goes to the Under 9s who won 7-2.

Fencer of the day – Benett Higgins

Saturday saw the Under 10As in action at the St James tournament. All boys played some brilliant, free flowing rugby and it was fantastic to win the tournament, winning 5 out of 5 games.

Man of the Tournament – Chinua Ogbunude

Sunday saw the Under 13 Sevens team in action at the famous Berkhamsted tournament. The boys all played well and it was great to test themselves against some of the best schools in the country. It was great to win the last game 25-0 against Barry Comprehensive.

On Tuesday the Under 8s and 9s were in action. The Under 9s were playing in the Ravenscourt Park Tournament and did very well to reach the semi-finals. The Under 9 B,C,D and E teams took on Fulham Prep and recorded 3 out of 4 victories, whilst the Under 8s played some fantastic rugby against Notting Hill Prep at the Sport Ground.

Man of the Match:

U8As – Benett Higgins

U8Bs – Willoughby Hassall

U8's – Aaron Mukherjee-Sharma

U9As – Fergus Farrell (Player of Tournament)

U9Bs – Gianluca Milner

U9Cs – Damien Giles

U9Ds – Oliver Lamberton

U9Es – Arki Paul

Wednesday saw the 1st XIII and the Under 12As take on Fulham Prep and the 2nd XIII and Under 12Bs take on a new opposition Northcote Lodge. All boys played some fantastic rugby and ran in several well-constructed tries. A special mention goes to the 1st XIII who won 65-0 and are unbeaten on our circuit.

Man of the Match:

1st XIII – Yermek Aubakirov

2nd XIII – Gabriel Daudy

U12As – Max Adams

U12Bs – Salar Moghadam

Top try scorers (as of Wednesday):

Harry Coombs	31
Chinonso Ogbunude	26
William Hoskins	25

From the Performance Corner – Liquid Nutrition to ‘break-the-fast’

Mr McClinton writes...

Combining protein and functional fats with fruit helps slow down the speed with which sugars are released into the bloodstream. We typically respond better to energy that is consistent in output as opposed to sharp peaks and troughs, and the energetic highs followed by debilitating lows.

Adding nut butter or coconut oil is an excellent way to get quality protein and healthy fats into this smoothie. Protein in the form of nut butter, e.g. cashew/hazelnut, or additional nuts and seeds, is tasty, convenient and highly effective in relation to function, growth and repair. Taking it in liquid form increases both absorption and bio-availability. Consider kefir, goat's yogurt or coconut milk as this provides the body with lots of beneficial bacteria (healthy gut flora) supporting optimum digestion and energy metabolism. Vitamin C and Iron is abundant in raw cocoa (chocolate) and raw ginger is packed with immune supporting agents promoting peak performance. All the B vitamins plus magnesium for muscle contractibility in the seeds makes this a complete meal in many respects.

To make:

Place all the ingredients in a blender and process until smooth. Add some ice for texture and temperature depending upon how you like your smoothie! Top with - fresh berries, nuts or seeds, desiccated coconut, toasted oats or coconut yogurt/kefir.

Ingredients:

1 frozen/fresh banana
Large handful of spinach or other green leaves
Coconut milk/almond milk/hazelnut milk
Cup of frozen berries e.g. blueberries, blackberries, goji berries
1tbsp tahini or any nut butter e.g. cashew/walnut butter
1 cup of raw chocolate nibs
Raw cacao powder
Handful of chia seeds/sunflower seeds/sesame seeds
Large slice of raw ginger
Tsp coconut butter

Top Ten Speed Kings!

Mr Gascoine writes...

There can only be one, number 1 and Adam 'the main man' Khan has posted an absurdly fast time of 1 minute and 44 seconds. Adam has improved his own year's best time by 8 seconds and is within 3 seconds of the Wetherby Speed Test record, set by 'Hall of Famer', Esa Dhanani. Astonishing! Meanwhile, Nicolas Wright Rocafort has moved into third place with a time of 2 min 2 sec and Killian Seidel claims 5th place with a belligerent time of 2 mins 12 sec.

Further down the top ten, Joshua Ashley cements his place with an improved time of 2 min 30 seconds. Unfortunately, Fergus Farrell fell just outside the 'Top Ten' but I'm confident he can improve for next time. What a week!

Basketball Semi-Finals

Congratulations to Max C (5K) and Andre D (5T) who competed on the same team in the London Sports Basketball Tournament this past weekend. They made it to the semi-finals where they just lost by just one basket in a free-throw shooting contest after double overtime (like losing by 1 goal in a penalty shoot-out). Well done, boys!

Eye of the Tiger Shirts

Mrs J purchased the t-shirts opposite for Reuben and Sebastian after reading in the Wetherbuzz about Mr Fraser's brother (who designed the shirts). They are supporting a very worthwhile cause where all the money will be going to support vulnerable children in India. Such a worthy cause and great fundraising!
