From the Headmaster

Dear Parents,

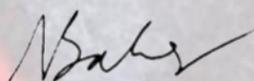

Good to see so many of you this week at 'New Parents' on Tuesday and 'Upper School Information Evening' on Wednesday. Many of you, of course, we have known for some years but we have 64 new families at Wetherby this year and you are all more than welcome. Staff reported after Tuesday night to me, "Really nice parents," and "They'll be good fun" - great to hear and I am sure that you will all fit in really well.

Rather than write my usual, slightly off-beat, weekly commentary this week, I would like to use this column to refer all parents to a document attached to the Wetherbuzz entitled, 'WPS Emergency Procedure'. This is not in reaction to anything specific regarding our School but practical advice, based on information given to us by the Metropolitan Police, that informs our security protocols. We will be running through these procedures with the boys in form time next week and, whilst we don't want to alarm them unduly, I think that in the small and safe environment of their respective form tutors, whom boys know and trust, such information can be imparted sensitively.

Without going into detail here (as you can read the guidelines for yourself), probably the key piece of information and most tangible thing to be given to the boys is a laminated card with emergency contact details relating to the School. We will be giving these freely to the boys and, ideally, they will have one in most of their blazer pockets. If you come across one whilst laundering or clearing out pockets, please replace it as, in the very unlikely scenario of an emergency situation, it could be crucial in terms of contacting the School and ensuring your son's welfare.

Statistically, it is far more dangerous to cross the zebra on Bryanston Square or take the school bus to Wetherby Sports Ground but I am sure you will all appreciate that we live in somewhat unpredictable times and, whilst we all hope such guidelines are ultimately never required, having them in place just provides yet a further layer of security to reassure us all.

Have a good weekend,

School Portrait Photographs – IMPORTANT NOTICE

School portraits will take place this Tuesday. Please note the following:

- Boys must bring school uniform even if they (3, 4, 5, 7 and 8) have Swimming or Games – if they do not have school uniform the photograph (wearing games kit) will still be taken.
- If you would like a siblings photograph – please email Mrs Noval in advance yolanda.noval@wetherbyprep.co.uk

Thank you for your cooperation.

From the School Premises Manager—Names in Uniform

Mr Ogden writes...

Please could parents make sure that all boys have their names written in every item of Wetherby uniform. They can be written in biro on the existing labels or a hand made label. Thank you.

Citizen of the Week

Citizen of the Week is Jonny R in 7M. Jonny is always such a positive, willing and enthusiastic young man. He is a very popular member of our community and always on hand to assist staff at home time or during the normal pattern of the school day. As one of the Year 7 boys who assessed for Harrow this week, there are few that would give a better impression as an ambassador for our School.

Sportsman of the Week

Sportsman of the Week is Chase D in 5S. A 'new signing' to Year 5 this year, Chase has made an immediate impact with 4 goals for his side this week. Some boys will feel their way in for a few weeks but not Chase – confident in his own ability and taking advantage of the opportunities provided by those around him, I think we have another 'goal machine' to add to our ranks at Wetherby!

Class Achievement

Miss Kirby's French Class—7G

From the Senior Mistress—School Council

Miss Olney writes...

It was the first meeting of the year on Tuesday and what a brilliant one it was! The boys were brimming with ideas and we even ran out of time discussing them all as they have some exciting initiatives and suggestions for the coming year. Our biggest fan, Chef Peter, baked some croissants which we all enjoyed and kicked off School Council meetings in great fashion.

Issues/Ideas brought up during meeting and action plan:

- School Council 'ideas' box – Each form needs to create a School Council 'ideas' box for their form so that they can submit ideas and suggestions. They can enlist the help of the boys in their form and even their form tutor but all boxes will be judged next Tuesday at the meeting.
- Reading in Form Time – Miss Olney and Mr Blundell are putting together 'reading boxes' for Form Time and have asked School Council to speak with their forms and gather ideas about what they would like in their boxes e.g. comics, magazines, books etc. Each form should bring ideas to the next meeting.
- Wetherby water bottles – Miss Olney is very keen for School Council to introduce a Wetherby branded water bottle this year and has asked School Council to speak with their forms about suitable ideas on what type of water bottle they'd like.
- Wetherby branded instrumental cases – On the topic of Wetherby branded items, Douglas is keen on bringing in Wetherby branded instrumental cases or even getting 'stickers' to put on cases. Miss Olney will speak with Mr Brawn about how practical this is and if we can get Wetherby 'stickers' for cases.
- Desserts – A few boys mentioned that with the last lunch, they are not getting enough desserts. Also they are keen on seasonal desserts e.g. hot chocolate in the winter! Miss Olney will raise this in a staff meeting with lunch duty staff to keep an eye on desserts and 'hold back' on some for the last lunch sitting.
- Themed lunches – Boys were very keen on having 'themed' lunches around a festival or important event e.g. Thanksgiving or Halloween. Miss Olney will speak with Chef Peter about upcoming events and see if we can plan some 'themed' lunches.
- Team photos of every year group – Some of the boys were keen to have team photos taken for their sports during the whole school photograph. Miss Olney to speak with the Senior Management Team about the possibility of this.
- Clubs – Whilst some boys are keen on Rugby Skills Club, some boys would like to bring back football for Indoor Sports Club. Also Oliver Toon was keen on bringing Board games Club to the mix! Miss Olney will speak with Miss Clifford and Mr Blundell.
- Packed lunch for Year 8 during CE week – Even though this is a while away, the Year 8s are keen on bringing in packed lunch (like last year) to eat in Hyde Park during CE week. Miss Olney will raise this with the Senior Management Team and bear this in mind for the Summer Term.

The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday 26th September at 8:30am in the Dining Room.

Manners

The staff and I have seen a real improvement in the focus this week on having an 'awareness of others'. I'm pleased to report that the boys are more aware of the staff in the building and volunteering their help when they see them struggling and even stepping aside to let them through with their heavy piles of marking.

In particular, the busiest part of the school (the basement corridor) has been much calmer and boys have stepped aside when Mr Tilleray is carrying Science equipment. He sent me an email to say that it has been significantly better and it's now much easier to move equipment round so thank you, boys, and keep this up!

For next week, the focus is on 'table manners' which a few staff and parents have commented upon. As one staff member commented, there have been some 'rather caveman-esque eating styles' in the Dining Room of late and it would be lovely to see boys really focus on this. In particular, using their knives and forks, not talking with their mouths full – you get the picture...

Just like last week, I thought I'd share some of the mentions from staff about manners this week:

Alfie Askew (4B) – Alfie has been so well-mannered from day one. He always queues up for lessons in silence and enters the classroom in the same polite and courteous manner. (Miss Clifford)

Miron Ananyev (4M) – I just had a lunch duty with the Year 4s and Miron was an absolute dream. So polite, with a huge smile on his face. He could not have been more enthusiastic and thorough with community duty and even offered to clean the staff table as well. He's just great! (Miss Williamson)

Jack Sorrell (4B) – Jack holds the door open for boys as well as adults, makes an effort to ask the teacher how they are and often goes out of his way to prop a door open again if the teacher is carrying a heavy load. This impeccable politeness will ensure that he goes far. (Miss Baillieu)

Monty James (8F) – There is a Year 8 boy who I walk with to riding every Friday and he is amazing. So polite, interested and interesting. He makes an effort to ask how I am and ask questions as well as fill me in on his week at school, often without me asking! (Miss Aitken)

From the Assistant Head Teaching and Learning—Forthcoming Growth Mindset Talk

Miss Balgobin writes...

Mr Robin Launder will be coming to Wetherby Preparatory on Monday 2nd October to talk about Growth Mindset with the Upper School boys, teachers and parents. The boys will attend a session during the day with the evening set aside for parents and staff. The evening session begins at 6:30pm for 90 minutes in the Pioneer Hall.

Robin Launder (<https://behaviourbuddy.co.uk/>) considers himself a national expert on Growth Mindset and feels that this opportunity to hear about Growth Mindset is not to be missed as it can be helpful to both parents and adults who work with children.

The Growth Mindset theory, pioneered by Carol Dweck, a Stanford University psychologist, is a way of thinking so that you are more likely to fulfil your potential. Although this can sound like a fad, it has credibility if combined with acquisition of skills and the tools to cope when times are challenging. This is such a value attribute to develop in children and it is never too late for anyone to have this awareness.

Curriculum Guides

Attached to this Wetherbuzz email are the Lower and Upper School Curriculum Guides. These guides will give you an overview as to the learning undertaken by the boys during the academic year.

From Charities—Wetherby Prep Charities 2017-18

Miss Martin writes....

We are delighted to announce the charities we will be supporting for this academic year. We will be supporting the Wetherby Bursary Fund, Rwanda Aid as our charity abroad and our home charity will be Auditory Verbal UK. This is a charity that supports deaf children growing up in the UK and we are really looking forward to working with them. There are lots of exciting charity events planned this year so do keep your eye out for these in the Wetherbuzz!

From Peer Mentoring—Class of 2017/2018!

Miss Baillieu writes...

It was my great pleasure to reveal the Peer Mentors of class 2018 this week. The Year 8 boys were provided with official badges in Upper School Assembly on Monday. The mentoring scheme provides younger boys and Year 8 students with the opportunity to build a rapport. This had resounding success last year which included acts of kindness like mentees making good luck cards for CE for their mentors and in return the mentors looking out for their mentees.

The mentors have been selected via a thorough process. They showed interest by volunteering to apply and then answered questions to various case studies. Each successful applicant replied with sincerity and conviction. One of my favourite aspects of running the mentoring scheme is pairing the boys up. This involves working out who could be compatible and who would bring out the best in each other. I relish the symbiotic rapport built between mentor and mentee. The Year 8 boys benefit from this friendship as much as the mentee profits from the additional nurturing and support.

This week has seen many a Guess Who game and tense chess match battled out. I look forward to the development over the ensuing months

From the Performance Corner— How to Improve Strength

Mr McClinton writes...

Physical strength is one of the tenets that underline sporting prowess, general fitness and activity levels. Bodyweight exercises are renowned for their strength, conditioning and toning capabilities as well as their impact on improving heart health. Below are 5 exercises that help shape a strong, lean muscles.

Pull Up – dynamic in all respects. The pull up engages not only the main back and arm muscles, it targets the trunk, the body's pendulum point, so crucial for everything from walking with the correct posture, to running economy and energy metabolism. Pull-ups can be done anywhere. Importantly, hanging with both arms fully extended overhead, shoulder width apart with an over handgrip on the bar, pull your body weight up touching your chin with the bar. Do as many pull-ups as you can. Starters usually manage one, maybe two. Aim for 10 pull-ups.

Single Leg Squats – helps increase general stability and recruits leg muscle fibres built for pace and power. The single leg squat is challenging but achievable. Start by initially squatting to a chair or bench at a comfortable height behind you. Raise arms out in front in order to create a counter balance and increase stability. Ensure the hip, knee and ankle is in line as you squat from high to low. Push with a flat foot from the floor back up into the standing position. Swop squatting legs, repeat this process up to 10 times per leg.

Supported Handstand - strength gains and core stability translates ever so well from the (supported) handstand to lots of power and speed based sports. Initially, practice this move in a gym, beside a wall, using a sports mat as a base to start from. With two hands equally spaced between the resting head on the mat, push from a kneeling position up and into a vertical position placing your heels on the wall at the height of the move as your legs lock out. Hold this pike position for several seconds then return to your knees raising your torso and returning to the kneeling position for 30 seconds. Repeat. Gradually, you will see real gains on the sports field with this dynamic power based move.

Split Squat - if squatting on one leg is something that seems a little out of your comfort zone, start with Split Squats. These are great for stability and mobility and work the glutes, quads and core. Make sure to always keep the shoulders stacked right over your hips and your glutes squeezed tightly. Lunge forward with one leg, drop into the squat/lunge position with a focus on distributing weight through both legs evenly. When the front knee strikes the floor, push back the starting position and repeat. Complete this exercise on both legs.

Press-up – done properly, the press up engages the entire body including the core, back, glutes and legs. Brace the body throughout the movement. Drop the chest as low as possible with the view to touching the floor. Drive up from the floor finishing in a locked out straight arm position. Repeat. The press-up activates the nervous system and targets respiratory function.

Hill sprints - another quality conditioning drill. The hill incline does not need to be extreme nor too lengthy. The key element to this exercise is total all out exertion after the warmup. A 20/30 metre distance will be sufficient. Hill sprints help regulate metabolism; the rate and efficiency with which you expend energy. It is also associated with the after burn, your capacity to burn unwanted calories post exercise.

Top Ten Speed Kings 2017-18

More movement than a cat on a hot tin roof in this week's Top Ten! Innes Adam has climbed from 10th spot to 3rd with an incredible improvement of a whopping 59 seconds and just behind Innes is Boris Bogolyubov (B squared), breaking 3 minutes. Other changes involve a newbie to the top ten, Sebastian Bell posting a highly respectable time of 3 minutes 13 seconds. Times of 3 minutes 40 seconds are required already to break into this year's top ten.
