From the Headmaster

Dear Parents,

I first went to watch Watford's football team in 1986. I was 12 and my friends and I went along to a home game against Everton, not really out of fervent passion for the team or the sport but really just as something to do at the weekend. Watford won 2-1 but the football was largely incidental. The adventure of getting the train together, walking to the ground, being part of a crowd and buying a burger from a van made far more of an impact. We carried on going, sporadically, throughout our school days and then, as we all went our separate ways to universities around the country, a Watford game became the catalyst to all meet up when home for the holidays. For a couple of years, two of us sold programmes for pocket-money and that also gave us free entry to home games. The football was diabolical during this time but, sitting at the back of the stand, chatting away and enjoying the company of friends was the main event. As we sold programmes, we got to know, on nodding terms at least, hundreds of people. Many would ask our names and stop to talk. We couldn't remember all of theirs but we always greeted them warmly and appreciated how buying a programme and exchanging a few words with us was part of their regular match routine.

Fast forward then to this past Monday night. Different, more recent friends, made through our children, have held season tickets in the same place for the past 6 years but, on what was a very cold night, with other commitments to meet and timings too late for their children, it was only me who was able (and willing) to attend the home, televised match against Chelsea. The companionship that I have always anticipated was perhaps not to be and the evening posed the risk of becoming a somewhat solitary affair without my nearest and dearest but I reckoned that would be a little unlikely, so carried on regardless. With familiar faces and surroundings, those 'nearest' to me on a cold, dark night became close companions for two, special hours, as together we watched a really memorable game of football. Thanks to our virtual world, Patrick, Joseph, and my long-term Watford-supporting friends kept in regular contact throughout: "Good goal!", "Got to get a second!", "Bet we muck this up!" were all filtering through. As the best part of 20,000 people exited the stadium, there was no end of back slapping and hand shaking; we were all the best of mates - though of course, best mates who won't speak to each other for at least two weeks and then only for another two hours on a very specific topic. Sport means different things to different people but, for me, be it win, lose or draw, that social aspect, is always the main attraction. Mind you, winning against the champions in such a momentous way was so fantastic that I wouldn't have minded being there all on my own, on this one occasion at least!

With a great start to the week came a great finish to the week. 'Come Dine With Us' last night was delicious and hilarious in equal measure. This is a such a uniquely 'Wetherby' event and the manner in which our staff and you, the parents, get behind and throw yourself into it these occasions with such spirit is superb. Today was crazy... crazy in a good way. Your affection, creativity, thoughtfulness and genuine warmth for everything we do here is so enormously appreciated by us all. The entire team here wishes to communicate their thanks to you all and will do so separately. In the meantime, may I simply thank you, at the end of a whirlwind half term, for your unique contributions to #teamwetherby.

Have a great half term,

Citizen of the Week

This week's Citizen of the Week is Robert J in 7M. Having settled brilliantly into his new school, Robert has impressed all his teachers with his positive attitude and determination to catch up on a new curriculum. He is a charming boy too. Well done, Robert!

Sportsman of the Week

This week's Sportsman of the Week is Harry L in 5S. Harry has the 'Wetherby Spirit' in abundance. Whether he is playing for an A or a B team, he will bring the same, brilliant commitment and know-how to the game. He is a real inspiration to his peers. Well done, Harry!

From the Senior Master—Oddballs Hats

Mr Blundell writes...

I have ordered some Wetherby 'Oddballs' hats which are available to staff, boys and parents across the four different Wetherby schools. They are excellent quality and perfect for Games and Hyde Park for the boys and indeed, fantastic for keeping warm whilst supporting the boys on the touchline at Wetherby Sports Ground!

The hats are part of a campaign to raise awareness about testicular cancer.

"The aim of the bobble hats is to get sport and schools teams across the UK wearing our bespoke, personalised bobble hats. We want to get teams talking about testicular cancer and raise awareness, as at the moment it is still a taboo subject and many are uncomfortable talking about it. We are trying to change that and with entire squads and clubs wearing our bobble hats we feel it is a big step in the right direction."

The hats retail at £10 so if you would like to place an order, please let me know by emailing stephen.blundell@wetherbyprep.co.uk. Many thanks .

From the Senior Mistress—Year 4 History Trip to Verulamium

Miss Olney writes...

On Thursday this week, Year 4 went to visit the ancient Roman remains of Verulamium and discover what life was like at the ancient Roman town now known as St Albans. Boys were brimming with knowledge of the Romans after studying the topic last term. It was a great opportunity to discuss what life was like for the Romans in Britain and showcase their learning.

The boys were split into three groups. One group visited the museum first where the boys learnt about why Verulamium was such an important Roman town and to see at first-hand beautiful mosaics, unearthed by archaeologists.

The second group handled Roman artefacts in a workshop set up by the museum. The session was particularly enlightening as the boys had the chance to handle real 2000 year old Roman objects and discuss how they were used in the Roman world. On each table was an assortment of objects that many of them hadn't encountered before which they had to discuss in groups and what they were used for.

The final group visited a 'Roman Villa' and saw beautiful mosaic that lined the floor of the villa which helped them understand how the Hypocaust system functioned in Roman times.

With glorious sunny but chilly weather, the boys had a fantastic time and were thoroughly absorbed by all that Verulamium had to offer. It was great to see the boys not only observing ancient Roman objects and art work, but handling and discussing the importance of artefacts. This was a thoroughly enriching trip that was able to extend all the boys' understanding of the Romans.

'History Hit' Talk with Helen Carr

On Monday, the Year 7s and 8s were treated to a History talk from the historian, Helen Carr. She writes, produces and presents for 'History Hit', a new kind of History Channel with Dan Snow. Helen spoke to the boys about the latest projects she was involved with. But more importantly, she talked about the significance of using a variety of historical sources to investigate periods in History from art and artefacts to diaries and chronicles.

Helen shared with the boys her passion for the medieval period particularly the Bayeux Tapestry, and questioned them on how William died and what evidence can we use to build a bigger picture. Helen also spoke about one of her documentaries on the River Tyburn and how you can still access this river under a shopping centre in London.

The most important message from her talk, and one which I wholeheartedly agree with, was to encourage the boys to go out and discover more about the past for themselves. To look at what is around them especially in London which has such a rich history.

For more information and to see some of the programmes that Helen presents and produces, check out History Hit - <https://www.historyhit.com/>

1. "My certainty has never let me down and has decorated my life with questions for me to conquer." Philipp Goetz, Y5
2. "Board games scattered across the floor like grains of sand on a beach and a TV lying there as if it was an entrance to a black hole." Saif Meliti, Y5
3. "Beyond the village of Pris-on, an ancient moat curled around a treacherous tower like a snake." Alex Kabysh, Y6
4. "It felt like a freezing hand on my face, wet snow pierced through my shoes." George Yatsenko, Y3
5. "I look behind and I can taste the cold call of death's dark veil approaching. It is then I realise my fate is near." John Cartwright, Y5

From Clubs—General Knowledge Quiz Club

Miss Sharp writes...

This week I took two teams to the Area Heats of the General Knowledge Quiz, the teams were made up of one boy from each year between Years 3-6. The competition was held at The Hall School and other competitors included Orchard House. The boys were well prepared for the competition with most of the team attending Quiz Club weekly. Wetherby started off well and were leading for the first round of the quiz. Unfortunately, our competitors edged ahead and we came a respectful fifth place. Well done to all those involved!

From Charities—Wetherby's Got Talent!

Miss Martin writes...

All boys from Years 3-5 (and any staff that would like to take part!) are invited to be involved in the competition. Boys may also participate as a group, with no more than 4 people. All boys who watch will be required to donate at least £5 upon entry to the competition, with all proceeds going to our school charities. Entries for the competition will be allocated on a first come, first served basis. If you would like to be part of this exciting event, do let me know!

DRAMA, DRAMA, DRAMA...

It's been a great week in the Wetherby Prep Drama department with Year 3 really getting stuck into their first character 'Hot Seating' experience, Year 7 getting to grips with Greek chorus and Year 5 studying characterisation through Matilda. On Wednesday Year 5 watched a live performance of Matilda the musical in the West End and represented the school exceptionally. Remembering their audience etiquette, thanking staff involved in the trip and most importantly having a super time they truly excelled themselves. I am looking forward to seeing their theatre reviews after half term!

SCHOOL PLAY

We are well under way with the school play rehearsals and the boys are doing spectacularly well with what is a challenging script and really rising to the challenge delivering and learning Shakespearean verse and prose. Over half term all boys in the play who haven't done so already need to learn their lines and be off book by the first rehearsal after half term. I will also be sending an email with details of the costume that they will need for their role in the next few days in order to give you plenty of time to either buy or make what your son requires so please look out for this in your inbox.

Please note that boys in the play are required to be at every Friday Drama Club rehearsal, and as an early reminder we also have rehearsals on February 27th in the morning and March 17th all day at the theatre.

Thank you to all parents for your help and support, it is much appreciated and I am very excited to get this show on the road - so-to-speak! Have a GREAT half term!

Cricket Helmets

Mr Billingham Writes....

For any Parents planning on buying or upgrading their son's helmet, the England and Wales Cricket Board (ECB) strongly recommend that school players only wear helmet that comply with the new specification this will be clearly labelled "BS7928:2013" Some helmets are tested with a junior ball (up to Under 13's), a men's ball and some are tested for both. The school would recommend if you are purchasing one, get one tested by both. The school has got plenty of these helmets for the boys that play hard ball to use so please do not feel that you will need to buy one of these. It is school policy for boys to wear helmets of this standard in hard ball matches or hard ball Batting/Wicketkeeping.

Below is a link for the latest helmets that meet these specifications (N.B The list is constantly being updated)

Any question or advices please don't hesitate to contact me at tom.billingham@wetherbyprep.co.uk

George's New Badge

George participated at the Pinewood Derby Badge 2018 design for the Boy Scouts of America and his design won the first prize!

They then made the badge according to his design and everyone who participated in the racing competition took it back home.

He was so happy to see how a drawing can be translated into the actual badge!
